

SL2P Tow Arm Upgrade

PROJECT DETAILS

Client: Rio Tinto

Location: Parker Point

Warrikal were engaged to replace the SL2P Shiploader tow arm assembly at their Parker Point Operations to be completed within a tight window, which was achieved to a high standard and with no incidents, accidents or near misses.

Scope of works included the below:

The Scope of the comprised of the replacement of the shiploader SL2P tow arm assembly at RTIO Parker Point Operations.

Warrikal undertook the shop detailing works and fabrication of structural steel component of the works for the tow arm and utilized its inhouse capabilities for scaffold supply and module erections.

Warrikal were completely self-sufficient throughout the project duration working split shifts of days and nights to ensure works were completed in a timely manner and with minimal interruption to export facility operations.

Project Specifics:

- Fixed price contract
- Elimination of manual handling with specialized tooling and engineering.
- All works completed on time and on budget
- Zero incidents, accidents or near misses
- Works completed in a short window

